Town of Palm Beach

• In Third Quarter 2025, changes in closed sales were mixed across product types. Single-family home sales in the Town of Palm Beach declined 23% annually (down three sales), while condo/co-op closings rose 17% year-over-year. The increase in condo/co-op sales was driven by more than double the number of closings in Town, while South End condo/co-op sales declined 2% year-over-year.

• Condo/co-op price metrics posted strong double-digit annual gains this quarter. Luxury sales surged, with closings over $5M quadrupling year-over-year. Notably, an oceanfront duplex sold for over $17M this quarter. The rise in high-priced transactions pushed average price up 29% to $2.2M, while median price jumped 55% to $1.2M.

• Single-family price statistics varied this quarter. Median price fell slightly by 2% year-over-year to $10M, while average price climbed 30% to $21.4M. The spike in average price was driven by the highest-priced single-family closing so far this year in the Town of Palm Beach—an ultra-luxury home along the Intracoastal that sold for over $86M this quarter.

• As of the end of September, single-family inventory rose 4% year-over-year to 72 available homes. Condo/co-op listings fell 8% annually to 219 units—the first annual decline in condo/co-op inventory since Second Quarter 2024.

Jupiter Island to Singer Island

- In the Jupiter Island to Singer Island submarket, closed sales declined annually for both property types, with condo/co-op sales down 42% and single-family home sales falling 6%. The significant drop in condo/co-op closings was driven by a shortage of luxury sales, as transactions priced above $2M fell sharply versus last year's level.

- Condo/co-op median price dropped 43% year-over-year to $573K, while average price declined 15% to $995K. These annual declines were driven by a nearly 50% drop in the number of high-end sales over $2M compared to Third Quarter 2024.

- Single-family pricing metrics increased year-over-year in Third Quarter 2025. Median price climbed 23% year-over-year to $1.6M and average price increased 5% to $2.6M. The year-over-year gains in pricing this quarter were fueled by an uptick in the number of closings over $5M versus Third Quarter 2024.

- Jupiter Island to Singer Island inventory continued its build up and saw both product types rise annually for the eighth consecutive quarter. Condo/co-op inventory increased 9% year-over-year to 408 available listings and single-family inventory climbed 37% to 112 available homes as of the end of September.

West Palm Beach to Lake Worth Beach

• In the area from West Palm Beach to Lake Worth, both product types posted double-digit annual gains in closings. Single-family home sales rose 26%, and condo/co-op transactions spiked 93% versus Third Quarter 2024. Notably, condo/co-op sales posted their largest annual percentage gain since 2021, driven by new development sales at Forté on Flagler, which began closings in July.

• Single-family prices dropped year-over-year. Median price decreased 7%, and average price fell 3% to $1.1M, fueled by a rise in the market share of sales below $1M.

• Condo/co-op pricing statistics ballooned year-over-year in Third Quarter 2025. Both median and average prices posted triple-digit annual growth and reached new record highs, fueled by a surge in sales over $5M—almost entirely from closings at Forté on Flagler. Additionally, this quarter included the highest-priced recorded condominium sale ever in West Palm Beach, with a residence at Forté on Flagler selling for over $28M.

• At the end of September, single-family inventory dropped 10% year-over-year, while condo/co-op listings fell 6% annually. Despite the annual decline, condo/co-op inventory has remained above 250 active listings for two consecutive years.

Hypoluxo Island to Highland Beach

• In the region spanning from Hypoluxo Island to Highland Beach, both product types displayed double-digit annual declines in closings. Single-family home sales dropped 58%, and condo/co-op transactions declined 18% versus Third Quarter 2024.

• In Third Quarter 2025, single-family prices rose sharply year-over-year to new record highs. Median price jumped to $7.2M, and average price climbed to $10.4M, fueled by a fourfold increase in closings above $10M. Additionally, while Third Quarter 2024 had no sales over $20M, this quarter saw three closings above that price point.

• Condo/co-op pricing metrics fell annually this quarter. Median price declined 11% year-over-year to $980K, and average price dropped by 14% to $1.1M.

• As of the end of the quarter, condo/co-op listed inventory increased 5% year-over-year to 203 units and remained over 200 active listings for the fourth consecutive quarter. Single-family inventory fell 39% annually to 45 available homes, the lowest number since 2021.

Delray Beach

- Delray Beach closed sales diverged between product types. Single-family home sales fell 16% annually and condo/co-op sales rose 13% year-over-year.
- Single-family pricing metrics rose year-over-year this quarter, with the average price up 4% and the median increasing 7%. Fewer transactions under $2M compared to a year ago contributed to the annual gains.
- Condo/co-op pricing metrics varied this quarter. Median price climbed 45% year-over-year to $465K, fueled by nearly twice as many sales over $500K. However, average price declined 4% to $474K, due to no closed sales over $1M this quarter versus two such closings last year.
- Inventory rose annually across both product types. Condo/co-op inventory increased 44% to 78 listed residences, and single-family inventory expanded 16% to 156 available homes. This was the third consecutive quarter that both product types saw double-digit annual gains in inventory.

Townhouse

- Townhouse sales across all Coastal Palm Beaches and Barrier Island submarkets fell slightly by 4% year-over-year.
- Despite the modest drop in sales, closed sales volume surged 45% annually, driven by three high-end sales priced over $6M.
- Median sale price increased 5% year-over-year, and average price rose 50% versus Third Quarter 2024. The spike in average price this quarter was fueled by a transaction for $16M on Palm Beach Island. By comparison, there were no townhouse sales over $10M during Third Quarter 2024.
- At the end of the quarter, prospective townhouse buyers had a selection of 136 homes available, down only 1% from a year ago. This quarter marks the first decline in townhouse inventory since fourth-quarter 2023.

Methodology

Figures are based on closings reported in the Palm Beach PBB and Beaches Multiple Listing Services, in addition to sales recorded by the Palm Beach County Property Appraiser's office within the Town of Palm Beach at the time the report is prepared.

Median Price is the middle or midpoint price where half of sales fall below and half fall above this number.

Days on Market averages how long a unit takes to sell and is calculated by subtracting contract date from list date. Units on the market longer than three years and shorter than one day are considered outliers and removed from the data to prevent significant skewing.

Inventory is a count of all currently listed units in each neighborhood and is measured at the end of each quarter.

West Palm Beach to Lake Worth section includes areas spanning from the Intracoastal Waterway to Interstate 95.

Delray Beach section includes areas spanning from the Intracoastal Waterway to Interstate 95.
